and it would be unendurable to give these societies which are a pest to the country, much. This has taken a very ugly turn now, however. The Foreigners have been so successful in their efforts with the Chinese Government, that they have won in their lawless conspiracy, and adding a new and terrible menace to the existing Government. For the future any Foreigners caught in league with this society will be treated as traitors, and the new Government has Chinese subjects and captives to serve as warnings to their countrymen. Do not follow in their footsteps. The Foreigners have been very successful in their efforts in Hunan Province, but it is easier to talk about this than effect it, for the leaders of the Kelao Hui are mostly Huns, and, as a result, they are not so easy to convert by the missionaries. There are no Foreigners that exist in the Province, where there are no priests, no missionaries, and no churches, and where even the Chinese Government has no influence. The Kelao Hui is tolerated, as the recent message upon the table

CHINKIANG.

A private letter from Chinkiang, says the N. C. Daily News, confirms the story that the Nansai brought up by Mr. Mason in the Chinghai were ordered by the Chinese General E Tsin-lung. "All of this," the article says, "was probably known to the Viceroy and other officials, and was got up to fool the Ministers at Peking out of corners the Postal and others now know too much about."

HANKOW.

2nd October.

The arrival of the native newspapers with the information that the Powers intended taking possession of Shanghai, in consequence of their objection being unobtainable from the Chinese Government, caused a great deal of excitement among the Chinese, who are not at all susceptible at the moment, but there is a good deal of talk among them, try-it-on kind of spirit. Those who calculate that China is going to back down before the Powers, are in the wrong, and their calculations are considerably mistaken. No one has yet taken place as yet, but it is now quite clear that the neighbours in Wuchang were on the very verge of doing so, and that the Chinese Government has now down the law to the Viceroy. It was not only by international law which he expounded, but the fact which the occasion better, and the fact that the Viceroy had been so long to bestir himself to such purpose, that although the fact was almost in the fire, he was able, in the nick of time, to put the damper on it. He has now come to the conclusion that the law which put it on is the hand which takes it off again, and which keeps these central provinces in a state of anarchy. Wuchang residents do not feel at all secure yet. It is not so noisy as it was, but they still return to the city, and the gentlemen have still to keep their arms handy.

broed, two said Hunanese are keeping the province up. There are two stories being told about this. One is that the Chinese Government has promised that, at the present preliminary examination of Changsha, the literati refused to enter the hall. The other is that the Chinese Government has promised Hunan should be a free province, and that the Chinese Government has promised to give the province to the foreigner, and that both he and the League of Nations have agreed to do so. The Chinese Chancellor assured them it would be so preserved. According to the other story a large number of Chinese have petitioned the throne for the Chinese Government to give the province to the foreigner, and that the Chinese Government has promised to do so. The Chinese Chancellor assured them it would be so preserved. people to be more careful in the way they handle fire, but in spite of this there was another last night, in Haoyang, when 200 more houses were burned. Everything is so dry, and the Chinese are so reckless in their use of kerosene and in their smoking and joss pigdin arrangements, that the real wonder is not how houses got burned, but how they escape.—N. C. Daily News correspondent.

IOHANG.

From Iohang the N. C. Daily News hears that all was quiet there, the magistrate keeping guard of soldiers round his yamen, perhaps as protection against the designs of H.M.S. Ellis. Sir Robert Hart's cruiser Lingfeng, with some half-dozen white men on board, was hourly expected. Meantime there had been no interruption of the school work or the services in the mission chapel in the city, which were being carried on by Mr. Cookburn's native converts. The work at the hospital and dispensary was necessarily stopped, owing to the enforced

On September 1, I told you in my last that a meeting was called for to-day. It took place in the Gordon Hall at 4 p. m. Mr. G. Dettling, Commissioner of the Customs, was in the chair, Mr. W. W. Buchanan, assistant chairman, and Mr. W. McEwen, secretary. Mr. Dettling in opening the meeting gave these present to understand that it had been called on account of the state of affairs in China, and especially in the South. He said that he was not at all doubtful that the situation in China was not only very serious, but that it was becoming more so every day. ment in case of riot, but he thought it advisable to form some self-protecting arrangement, and that a committee of twelve should be elected. Mr. Bronson put the proposition to the meeting, and it was carried unanimously. Twelve gentlemen were elected as a committee, with Mr. Dettmer as chairman. The only other names I could catch were—Major Richard, Lieut.-Col. Peitrat, Capt. Hoays, of H.I.J.M. Navy; Messrs. W. N. Pothick, A. D. Starkeff, Ed. Cousins, A. W. Matland, G. Buehstetter, and A. Michie. After this all present enrolled themselves as members of the Defence Volunteers, amongst whom were the missionaries. I am glad to say. The meeting terminated at 8 p.m.

Customs Tactai, Tactai's mother died this evening, therefore he retired from office, and Tactai Li, chief of the Viceroys' Treasury, taken his place pro tem.

Telegrams have been received from Shantung to the effect that the present Governor Fu Yau has received the missionaries in quite a different spirit to the late Governor, so that at Jichow, where the principal missionaries were, the "Capital
